

I might go there

R 3,900.00

'I MIGHT GO THERE'

Mphahlele
2021

Maaïke Bakker's exhibition, An answer to an unknown question, presents a showcase of unique work on paper made in collaboration with the David Krut Workshop. These new works are presented in conversation with works made in the artists studio. This showcase highlights the similarities between Maaïke's studio practice and how she has incorporated and mirrored these practices in creating works on paper that have been run through a printing press using elements of collage, design, drawing and embossing to name a few. Maaïke plays with abstraction in her work, seeking to depict scenes from alternate realities. The visual languages she employs in her art-making are typically precise and create compositions that have energy and a sense of movement as she makes use of shapes and colour.

Maaïke Bakkers solo exhibition 'An answer to an unknown question' is opening on Saturday the 28th of May 2022 from 10am - 2pm at THE BLUE HOUSE (151 Jan Smuts Avenue, Parkwood) and will be up until 1st July 2022.

Frame	None
Medium	Watercolour monotype, silkscreen on chine, chine colle, collage and handwork (acrylic ink)
Height	49.50 cm
Width	34.40 cm
Artwork Height	29.5
Artwork Width	20.7
Artist	Maaïke Bakker
Year	2021

