

Hina

R 5,000.00

'Hina' translates from Xitsonga as 'Us' or 'We'. This ink-on-paper artwork includes lines from the lyrics of the song 'Hina' by Gito Baloi, which tells of the honour and joy of being the storyteller. The image represents both the storyteller and the listener and it celebrates the exchange that takes place between the two. Strands of seaweed bind the woman and the man - emphasizing the way we are all bound to nature and to each other.
