

Reef Fragmented 3.1

R 35,000.00

Reef fragmented is an homage to the disappearing reefs of the Indian Ocean. The clay fragments represent broken pieces of staghorn coral and sea urchin needles, forming an ethereal landscape which evokes a sense of place and nostalgia.

Reef Fragmented is made up of about 500 individual handmade bead and 'coral' pieces. Each hand threaded string composing of 10-12 beads are hand tied on a suspended frame to create a three dimensional installation.

The work comes with or without a suspension frame. Installation fee not included.
