The wellspring of my creativity draws from diverse sources, with a special nod to old family slides and photographs that invoke a sense of nostalgia, transporting me to simpler times. My artistic focus primarily centers around the portrayal of people in various life situations.

The world of art has no shortage of luminaries who inspire my work, spanning both contemporary and historical realms. Among them, the work of artists like Richard Diebenkorn, David Hockney, and Edward Hopper serve as beacons guiding my artistic journey
